1830 Building, 5th Floor

The Johns Hopkins University
School of Medicine

This project included the demolition and reconstruction of an 8,000 SF office space located on the fifth floor of the 1830 Building at the Baltimore campus. New office areas, conference rooms, staff areas, open office space and support areas were created.

The project featured elaborate architectural woodwork including full height wood panels, crown molding, wood base and etched glass windows. State of the art communications systems provide global medical conferencing capabilities.

New mechanical, electrical and fire protection systems as well as extensive drywall work and new finishes were included in the scope of work. The value of this project was $450,000.
